ABOUT THE SOCIETY

The Filtration Society was formed in London in 1964. It is a charitable, non-profit organisation established to advance and disseminate knowledge on the design and use of filtration and separation techniques in industry, commerce and other walks of life.

The Society organises technical meetings that keep members up to date with advances in filtration and separation and their application and refreshes their knowledge of established technologies.

Membership of the Society is available at several grades including Student and Individual levels. Membership is open to interested individuals; most members work for manufacturers and users of filtration and separation technologies, or for universities and research organisations. Corporate Association is available to companies.

Membership has many benefits which, depending on the grade, include:

- Reduced registration fees at meetings
- Networking and sales opportunities
- Copies of the quarterly journal FILTRATION, the official journal of the Society
- A 12½% discount on 'Dictionary of Filtration and Separation' from Filtration Solutions

The Society currently has members in over 20 countries around the world. It has an established Trust Fund which is used to recognise distinguished contributions to filtration and separation through the award of The Gold Medal and The Suttle Award.

Further details of Membership and Corporate Association can be found at on the Society website at:

www.filtsoc.org

All delegates will receive a set of notes which have always proved to be a very popular and up to date reference source. During discussion periods attendees will be invited to raise matters that are of particular interest to themselves.
