The Filtration Society at FILTECH 2019 (Stand M22, Hall 11.2)

Take the opportunity to visit The Filtration Society at FILTECH in Cologne, Germany from 22-24 October. We'll be manning our stand there courtesy of the exhibition organisers to let people know what membership of The Filtration Society can do for them; about our links with industry and academia and about our mission to advance and disseminate knowledge in the design and use of filtration and separation techniques in industry, commerce and other walks of life.

FILTECH is the world's most important event for the global filtration and separation industry, providing an international platform to showcase all aspects of filtration and separation, from purchasing, design and research through to sales and implementation.

The conference programme running alongside the exhibition will showcase more than 200 technical presentations, with our own Dr Graham Rideal chairing a session on new developments in woven wire filtration media, including 3D high performance filter cloth and woven wire mesh combinations in solid-liquid separation.

Other topics covered feature contemporary issues like micro and nanofiltration media, centrifugal sedimentation, advanced composite fibre materials, advanced filter media developments and manufacturing methods

Last year, FILTECH 2018 welcomed 14.000 participants from all over the world, with 73 nations represented. 65.5% of all visitors came from European countries, and more than 57% from outside Germany, with visitors from India, Turkey, USA,

Brazil, Japan, Taiwan and Korea. FILTECH 2018 was an intercultural event and afforded a unique platform for exhibitors to generate new business.

On this year's stand delegates can meet senior Council members and discuss the latest electronic version of the official Journal FILTRATION to see how the last 40 years of technical papers can assist in their research. The stand can also be a meeting point for existing and prospective new members of the Society. Why not stop by for a coffee?

If filtration and separation is important to your business, then FILTECH 2019 is the place to be; take time out to call in on the Filtration Society on Stand M22, Hall 11.2.
